JO Education: Integration of disadvantaged people

JO Education is an Italian non-profit organization based in Sicily, tackling discrimination by promoting the integration of disadvantaged people and empowerment of groups at risk, in particular young people, women, and those suffering from long-term unemployment for a better integration in the labor market and in the society.

These are the specific objectives:

Promoting the integration of disadvantaged people (minority groups, young people, long-term unemployed, women).

Engaging young people and women in providing concrete answers and skills to unemployment.

Developing innovative training programmes for different target groups (adults, NEETs, women, unemployed, immigrants, employees in search of new forms of training and education).
